

Borderland – Forum for Asylum Seekers and Refugees

Asylum seekers live entirely at the mercy of others, their future decided by people they usually never meet within an alien system. At the same time, they have very few opportunities to take part in the public debate.

Asylum seekers and refugees are not and can not be irrelevant to Norwegian democracy. On the contrary, it is an unenlightened society that does not ask the most vulnerable about their views and experiences – and listens to them.

Borderland aims to strengthen the participation of asylum seekers and refugees in the public debate on Norwegian asylum policies – through co-operation on campaigns, open hearings, a joint web page, and other measures.
